

SIF Operating Documents

The SIF uses many documents to guide its work. Some of these documents are GEOSS-centric and some are SIF-centric, although there is cross-referencing. The sub-menu choices here will make available these documents so that you can become familiar with their contents. These documents should be used as reference documents.